

World TKD Championships South Korea

Carlos Martin: We arrived to Seoul after a trip of three and a half hours. We organized a planning where we went to most popular Korean Shops. The day was amusing, haggling prices as if we will keep each thing of those that we saw. Here the gold medal for Francisco Espeche who was uncovered as a born bargainer that produced smiles in the delegation.

The evening day we visited the Kukiwon headquarters of the WTF, where we could observe a master class for 120 black belts. We visited its museum where we were required to sign the book of visits, and where we make some pictures.

The following day we visited one of the most important temples in Seoul where the photographic sessions were intense. Encouraged by the quantity of public we decided to carry out a team pattern. It was nice to see the Korean people making photographs all the time. Our last journey took us to the center of Seoul where we could observe a very nice and modern city.

I highlight mainly of the Korean culture, the education and people's kindness in all the places, and the continuous smile that reflects their face.

South Korea has left us a pleasant experience.

I would like to say thank you to all the people who maintained the interest in the news every day.
